My Own Luxurious Spa Experience At Home

Filed Under Blog, Bath & Body | Leave a Comment

Do you love going to the spa? Wouldn't it be wonderful to create that experience for yourself every day in your own home? While creating my own at home spa experience this morning I discovered that these products really did make me feel like I was at a spa. I started my day refreshed and pampered. Isn't that what every woman deserves on her Sunday morning?

Travertine Spa Petal Body Cream My spa experience this morning was made complete with this wonderfully luxurious body cream. This cream is made with Jojoba oil and it feels like charmeuse satin going over your skin. Jojoba oil is so beneficial for your skin, it minimizes water loss, helping your skin to maintain it's own moisture levels over time. (Jojoba oil even stops ingrown hairs from developing.) And the smell, oh, the smell!

Intoxicating, exotic, pure luxury. My skin was left nurtured, pampered, and even my elbows feel like silk. This lotion is now one of my absolute favorites for my own personal spa treatment.

I think I'll make this my Sunday ritual! Now all I need is strawberries, fresh cream and a mimosa!
