

a girls gotta Spa!

An adventure in beauty,
style & fashion

Review: Travertine Spa's Petal Body Cream

If you can't go to the spa to get that softer than silk feeling on your skin, then bring the spa to you. Travertine Spa may be located in California, but here in the mountains of Pennsylvania I can create my own sanctuary and bathe my skin in softness with their Petal Body Cream.

Travertine Spa's Body Cream is made from Jojoba Oil, which minimizes water loss from the skin therefore keeping it perfectly hydrated. The fragrance is "Petal" and is a light floral scent that has a sweetness to it. Just saying that it is "floral" makes it sound plain, but from bottle to skin, the scent is diverse and is inherently pretty.

The Body Cream is non-greasy and quickly absorbs into your skin, leaving it perfectly quenched. It comes in a 4oz metal container with pump, but I would love to see this in a larger size (4oz. is just not enough when it is so fabulous!)

Why not treat your skin and get it ready to look gorgeous; shorts weather is just around the corner. Available online at Travertine Spa for $24.

Google™ Custom Search

Advertise on A Girl's Gotta Spa!